Politicians asked to sign fair campaign pledge

New York State - There are less than nine weeks until Election Day.

The League of Women Voters and the Interfaith Alliance of Rochester are asking candidates to sign a fair campaign pledge as they try to eliminate misleading attacks.

"Very often we get voters who don't want to vote and I think that's a big piece of it," says Sheila Abeling, co-sponsor of the Fair Election Campaign. "They feel that candidates don't care and get too wrapped up in the mudslinging and that sort of thing. So I hope this will make a difference."

Tuesday is Primary Day for the 2014 New York State elections.
